

Wildflower wordsearch

Equipment

- Wildflower playing cards
- Resource sheet
- Pen/pencil

Activity

- Take the group to an outdoor learning location
- Have them sit alone and hand them each a 'word search' resource sheet
- Upon completion see if any can identify any from the wildflower playing cards
- Once they have found the flower card they can then try and find the flower in the wild

Review

- Ask the group how hard they found the word search
- What would have made it easier?

Background

Taking the curriculum outdoors can have a considerably beneficial impact on the learning and development of young people. From enhancing problem solving skills to communication and resilience, outdoor learning provides endless opportunities for exploration, experimentation and contextual learning.

A pack of wildflower playing cards is a simple resource to engage a group of young people with a curriculum focused learning activity. Turning learning into a game is a winning formula.
